WILLIAM WILSON DESIGN WINS BEST DRESSED ON GRAMMY RED

Charlotte, NC-Feb 1, 2010– Celebrity Designer William Wilson takes his place in history. William is one of only 52 people that can say their design won Best Dressed man on the Red Carpet at the Grammys. He designed the suit for 2 time Grammy nominee, R&B singer Calvin Richardson.

When William Wilson, CEO and Private Clothier of William Wilson Clothing, checked his voicemail Saturday Jan16th, he had no idea it would lead him to the Grammy Awards. But that’s exactly what happened. R&B singer Calvin Richardson told him he needed a suit for the Red Carpet. “When I heard the voicemail, I had to listen to it 3 times. I couldn’t believe it. These are the opportunities that change your life.” says William. I had 9 days to design, create, and deliver the suit before he left for L. A. I told him it would be a rush, but I would make it happen. We had about 12 hours to spare.

When Calvin, Melinda (Calvin’s personal assistant), and William met to design the suit, they knew it looked good, but they had no idea just how good. About 2 hours before the Grammy Awards were to air, Calvin texted William and told him he had just won Best Dressed on the Red Carpet. It was incredible. “I couldn’t believe it. I was shaking just reading the text. He beat out Maxwell, Usher, and a host of other very popular artists!”
